lovely, witty guitar pop. exactly what's missing from British pop music nowadays (reminiscent of Edwyn Collins and Orange Juice)' - Cactus Killer Radio 6 MP3 Songs POP: British Pop, ROCK: Adult Alternative Pop/Rock Details: lovely, witty guitar pop... exactly what's missing from British pop music nowadays (reminiscent of Edwyn Collins and Orange Juice)' - Cactus Killer Radio 'this is not buzzsaw indie pop. This is more understated singer/songwriter sounding stuff. And it's rather good. Recalling a sound and feel that is pure 1987' - Lost Music 'a twisted take on guitar-pop, mixing jangly guitars with a hybrid of alt-country, dark brooding lyrics and no-frills charm - their roots are in 'C86' era indie-pop having previously founded 80's twee-pop veterans The Haywains' - Moles Bands 'simple guitar pop songs that float nicely in and out of alt-country territory. I've complained before about the lack of UK bands dabbling in this genre, so it's always nice to find some willing to give it a shot' - Another Form of Relief 'full of clichés bordering on a tongue in cheek approach, there is definitely a sense of fun behind the writing' - Bristol Rocks 'more than just a gig - an event! Cracking stuff!' - Wunderbar Listings Here in Westfield, we like pop songs bearing the spirit of punk and the warmth of soul. We also like the 'DIY' ethic and vinyl records. Each of us has been making music for a while now. Paul has roots in 80's era indie-pop through his previous band The Haywains. Mike has similar roots from his previous band Cruiser. However, we don't just like indie-pop - we like all sorts of music - anything challenging and innovative. Stew's roots in reggae are testament to that. Geoff also has links with Bristol's stalwart punk scene. Formed in 2006, we write about issues close to our hearts - mostly true stories. But don't worry all you romantics out there - we'll always throw in the odd slushy number for good measure! We aren't hip scenesters - we're simply here to offer an alternative to the shallow laddishness that seems to have permeated the British 'indie' mainstream in recent years. The perfect pop song is a timeless wonder - and if we can help keep the soul in pop alive, then we'll be happy. We hope you enjoy listening to these songs as much as we have creating them. People who are interested in Belle and Sebastian Mogwai should consider this download.
