Includes the track "Boom-Ba-Ba-Boom" featured in John Zibell's critically acclaimed independent feature film "Sex and Violence" . 12 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Rock, ROCK: Jam-band Details: About Cebu... In 1995, a group of actors from New York were cast in a film to be shot in the Philippines. Spending two months filming in and around the island of Cebu, many of these actors became friends for life. Upon their return to New York two of these actors, Mike Boland and Gus Scharr, began writing songs together. In need of a guitar player they recruited Patrick Chapman (another actor in the film). It was then that the group Cebu was born. Performing as a three-man band, Cebu was making good music but there was a missing ingredient. This missing ingredient took the form of Anthony Callarota. With his bass and lead guitar, Cebu was finally complete. Based in New York City and playing "anywhere and everywhere, in and around town", Cebu pushed to make their mark on the music scene since their first performance on Halloween night in 1996. Though the band split up in 2001, a following of die-hard Cebu fans STILL yearns to see them perform once more...and they may yet get their way. Mike Boland and Gus Scharr continue to collaborate, writing and recording their own material and they are getting that "band itch" again. This CD is a testament to the power of friendship, the lure of fun, and the love of music that is shared between the members of the band and rock-n-roll lovers the world over. Here's to "just havin' fun."
