By dabbling in a number of music genres, pop/ballad/folk/blues/classical/children's music to name but a few, Mary HG has taken the scariness out of the work 'genre' and replaced it with a collection of great songs that you'll find yourself humming and singing for a long time to come. Annabird is Mary HG's debut album. An eclectic collection of songs brilliantly woven together to take the listener on an enjoyable journey through Mary HG's many musical styles. 'Annabird' is the pet name bestowed upon Mary HG's mother Ann by Ann's cousin, the late and great Belfast Bluesman, Jim Daly. Mary HG has dedicated Annabird to her mother Ann, a songstress in her own right, and Jim Daly, as an acknowledgement and appreciation of her musical heritage. Annabird, the debut album of Mary HG, is an exciting showcase that gives us just a peek at the musical diverseness of this talented Australian songwriter.
