He can be found performing on the piano, or acoustic guitar, singing meaningful lyrics over the melodies of his songs. For as long as he can remember Nicholas has enjoyed playing music. In 2005, Nicholas released a CD entitled This Life, which included fourteen of his original songs, all recorded, produced, promoted, and performed by Nicholas himself. At that point, the singer was in his Junior year of Highschool. He performed several local solo concerts around his town, while also working on his songwriting and producing. Now, in 2008, Nicholas Wells is a polished musical artist, preparing to tour as soon as his latest work is released.
