Details: Nikki Teeuw is an artist inspired and propelled by the love of electronica, dance, pop, funk, trip-hop and much more. Taking inspiration from her many influences she has developed a style and sound that has become her own. Her lyrics are as raw and emotional, as they are dark and evoking, and yet she still knows how to pen a great pop tune. An early online only release from Nikki, RAW, is a classic example. It still generates much public interest and caught the attention of music guru Molly Meldrum, who featured Nikki as his Artist of the Month. Since then Nikki has teamed up with other fantastic co-writers and producers, such as Sean Flannery, Susie Ahern and Dave Soutar, and has developed a richly textured style and sound, and combined with her sultry and often quirky pop melodies it certainly makes for an addictive combination. She has an engaging sense of enthusiasm and passion towards her songs and a calm, philosophical attitude towards a sometimes tough music industry. In 2006, Nikki released her debut EP, GOT MY GROOVE BACK. The EP is available though itunes and has received excellent support from DJs and radio. It has been on high rotation on Melbournes Joy Fm and the title track has recently been remixed! Relationships are the predominate subject in Nikkis song-writing, and they are deeply explored in her inimitable, insightful way where the message is never lost. Over the past year Nikki has been collaborating and featured as a guest vocalist for many well-respected international DJs, such as Rod Di Port, Peter G and Superfreak from Portugal, Baldomer and Carl Roda from Spain and Roby Mannarini of The Housework Family in Italy.

Nikki is also one half of the exciting new dance project Yoyogi Park with UK DJ Steve Ronan. Nikkis second solo CD is now about to be independantly released. It is called Strange Butterfly and it is another tremendous dive into the world of relationships and psyche. From the beginnings to the ends, from the frustrations to the rewards. With a few pop numbers to keep your toes tapping. Nikki is constantly receiving an increasing amount of support from radio stations and audiences, and now attracting international attention, the future is looking very bright! Stay tuned!!!!
