Original contemporary celtic new release from Ireland - with Zrazy's trademark kick-ass newly written lyrics on the state of the world, wrapped in jazzy, techno celtic dance tracks. 10 MP3 Songs WORLD: Celtic, ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover Details: It's the new live Zrazy album specially for the fans! Some of your favourites and five brand new tracks. The music takes the listener on a journey from the opening calm simplicity of "Amen" inspired by the west coast of Ireland in Co.Clare to the anti-war techno track of "Make The Connection" , sardonically wising thru' the hypocrisy all the way to to the goofy humour of "Suburban Girl" and "Going Up" ( that one for the space cadets especially in Texas - we love y'all there!) Maria's voice in the live version of 679-4700 captures the primitive force and primal scream of Irish womanhood rejecting outright the patriarchal control of Church and State. That is: "Don't tell me what to fucking do!!!!" The track is both force and fantastic musical celebration at the same time - Carole flying on jazz piano and wild tin whistle, M thundering on the bodhran! Living our Lives (title inspired by Grace Jones) is the melting pot of all of Zrazy - a musical kaleidoscope of all our sounds. Come to the enchantment ladies and gentlemen!
