START YOUR DAY WITH EMMY-WINNER FAITH RIVERA'S NEW RELEASE "SUNCATCHER: MORNING MUSIC FOR THE HIP THE SACRED" Positive Pop Artist, Singer, Songwriter, Producer Faith Rivera, has released her fourth, most eclectic album yet - "Suncatcher: Morning Music for the Hip the Sacred" now available online at TowerRecords.com, CDBaby.com, Itunes other digital retailers. Faith, a 2003 Emmy-winner for Outstanding Original Song, produced Suncatcher alongside arranger, producer, musician, co-writer Ted Jacobs in Burbank, CA at House at the Corner Productions. From the CD cover, an original Hawaiian quilt-like painting of the sun by Long Beach artist Margie Darrow-Stretz, to the sparkling music production and world-class musicians, Suncatcher is a masterfully crafted album with 12 musical gems to start your morning in style. The album begins as your day should with the musical motto: "You've got to choose Love" done as a short acapella-jazz piece. Next is ukulele-infused "In the Morning" penned by Barry Gibb (the only cover song on the album) performed by ukulele virtuoso, Daniel Ho. Feel Faith's sensitive, soulful style on the piano in fan-favorites "God Is..." "Come See Her Smile." Hear the inspiring play between Faith 3 of LA's most powerful vocalists (Gerald White, Mica Fischer, Harold Payne) featured on "Vision." Experience a bass part that sings as played by Crusaders bassist, David

Hughes, especially on multi-lingual tune "Song of One" which features a Hawaiian Reiki prayer, Japanese Buddhist chanting Zuriani (Grammy-winning songwriter) singing an Islamic prayer. Another highlight is "Women of Today" already being used by women's conferences, workshops retreats as an anthem song. This upbeat track celebrates women from all walks of life reflects this musically with a number of inspiring women at the end of the song (including an HBO-featured poet, a teacher, indy singer/ songwriters, moms, a Disney exec, more). Originally born raised in Hawaii, Faith has made southern California her home for years now since graduating in the 90's from Cal State Long Beach. Her Oprah-esque music, inspirational empowering like Oprah herself, is heard around the world on tv, internet radio, through other artist releases, and through Faith's Madonna-meets-Beyonce-meets-Enya live musical performances from NY to Maui, Japan to Costa Rica. Suncatcher, as it was originally intended by Faith, is being used by conscious-minded folks around the world to ease into their mornings set positive intentions for the coming day! It's about living each day deliberately with a sense of groundedness in joy, success, love all that good stuff! There's no better time to plant your "seeds" than in the morning with Suncatcher blaring from the speakers :)
