Her voice can both soothe and excite! Taj Artis is no newcomer to music. She has spent years as a successful commercial jingles singer. McDonald's and Coca-Cola are just two of the companies who have used her incredibly versatile voice to promote their products. Taj's voice has been featured on CNN and she sang for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games. Her vocals can be heard as a background singer on over 60 records including Third Day, Wes King, and Babbie Mason. Taj Artis also has the ability to craft masterful and thought-provoking songs, penning tunes recorded by artists like Karen Wheaton and Babbie Mason. Now Taj invites you to "Take The Time" to enjoy her debut solo CD. It is a soul-stirring collection of songs she wrote to bring hope, peace, and joy to the "real world." Honest lyrics, powerful vocals, and exciting instrumentation blend together to create a masterpiece. Award-winning producers Oliver Wells and Ricky Keller collaborate to create music you will remember. Taj also worked with newcomer Jeff Rogers to create songs with a "vibe" you can groove to - coupled with messages you can relate to. Some have likened the voice of Taj Artis to Whitney Houston. Decide for yourself. Either way, she will certainly be music to your ears. Take the time to experience the heart and soul of Taj Artis. Her love is contagious. Her joy is outrageous. Her message is ageless.
