Have you ever noticed just how many people are selling the exact same Internet Marketing related products as you? They've got the same ebooks, the same software and they're promoting the same affiliate links as you. Talk about it being a 'dog eat dog' world. - All it takes is one loony tune to start selling the product for pennies on Ebay and your profits are history. It's happening more and more. These days you need to stay awake for twenty four hours a day just too keep up. . . .but right now that's about to change: If your sick of seeing hundreds of other resellers promoting the same products as you and worse still at less than half the price your charging then this message will be one of the most important ones you'll read all year. . . .
