"original." Jeremy didn't grow up with hopes of becoming a singer/songwriter. He picked up the guy's guitar from across the hall his sophomore year of college and discovered he was one. Before anyone could coin Jeremy a natural on the guitar, he'd already made songwriting appear just as simple as he made playing the guitar look. Self-taught in a matter of about 5 months, Jeremy hit the local bars/independent coffee houses in his hometown of Nashville, TN with a talent he could genuinely call his own.... the debut of which was without a doubt long overdue. Jeremy hasn't performed for an audience yet who wasn't willing to 'stay for another.' Jeremy Mitchell....playing soon in a town near you.
