Influenced by the singer/songwriter movement of the late 60's and early 70's, Kevin Stonerock's latest release blends elements of folk, rock and country on this all original set. 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: Gentle, COUNTRY: Country Rock Details: About the CD "Stranger In This Town", Kevin Stonerock's largely acoustic based third solo release, is a return to his singer/songwriter roots after spending several years writing, performing and pitching songs in Nashville. Kevin's influences are evident on this honest, finely tuned, yet not over-produced set. From the poignant "You Don't Have To Earn My Love" to the in-your-face "It's Up To You" to the sweetly nostalgic "I Can't Remember Why", Stonerock has produced an album of depth, maturity and just plain good music. About the Artist Indiana born singer/songwriter Kevin Stonerock has been writing and performing since the mid 1970's. He has shared the performance stage with artists such as Marshall Chapman, The Dixie Dregs, Mark O'Connor, Caroline Peyton and The Wright Brothers. Kevin's style, difficult to pigeon hole, has been described as "easier to take" adult contemporary, and "folk with a Midwestern flavor" and blends elements of folk, rock and country. His early influences were the singer/songwriters and folk and country rock artists of the late 60's and early 70's such as Gordon Lightfoot, Neil Young, Dan Fogelberg, Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Poco and others. His works have received favorable reviews in several major publications including "Guitar Player Magazine". To learn more, visit Kevin's website at kevinstonerock.com.
