Blimey! Not only another remix of The Crumble Song but also a free video animation of The Burger Song! Yes Lorraines new CD is a celebration of the Mistress of Melodys trademarks quirky melodies, sing-a-long choruses and localised lyrics! Its a kitsch-in-sync collection of bossa novas, string quartets, disco delights, loungey sounds and even an industrial indie track! Delight in contemporary top-notch production and off-the-wall homemade samples of 80s electronic organs! Its Suburban Exotica at its highest. A happy vital sound theres something for everyone and a lot of sing-along- choruses for you to join in with. Lorraine Bowen is an English quirky, eccentric melodist and popular performer in some of Londons more culty cabaret and gay clubs I just wanted to say I saw you last night at the Carling Academy in Islington and you were absolutely fantastic! The crumble song was my favourite! Ree My friends and I saw you at Duckie months ago and have been singing about crumble ever since. It was a revelation. I think it's fair to say you changed our lives. A bit. See you again soon I hope Stuart. Just thought you would like to know that VITAL ORGANS is the OFFICIAL 2006 BEACH HOLIDAY disc for Doug and I... CONGRATULATIONS!! You were on vacation with us and you didn't even know it... "The Pizza Song" is a big hit with the kids you can be assured! Brady, New York
