"In a way, my arrival in Philadelphia was a kind of homecoming, even though I was a newcomer. In a time of great transition in my life, the paths I took eventually led me to explore my music in a way I had only hoed would be possible. Making this CD was one of those paths and along the way I met so many wonderful and inspirational people who held candles to light up my dreams...and thanks to the Philadelphia music community for the warm welcome into their hearts and homes." - Michael London Susan Siegel - "I love absolutely every song on the album and want a copy.... He really sings from his heart and it is all beautiful." Barry Rabin, songwriter/lawyer - "Michael London's "The Advice Song" is one of the funniest songs I've heard in years! Tight, clever songwriting that hits home better than a cruise missile."
