Cordero was born in the Dominican Republic and was raised in New York City. Coming from a family of notable musicians, his musical career began in grade school, up through college. This included becoming an understudy of Jose Molina (Director of Sony Music, Conductor and Musical Arranger for Symphony Orchestra). A gifted percussionist at heart, Mr. Cordero played with famous Latin groups in the early 80's to late 90's. Ramon and Luis played music together and quickly became friends. As the years transpired, they heeded to God's voice and are now servants of the Lord. This, their first compact disc, includes hand-picked songs which are popular in the Latin Christian church community. They were rearranged and made instrumental so all can enjoy. As you listen, allow yourself to feel the cool breeze of the island and the tropical sounds of the beating drums. Catch a wave of the Caribbean and indulge in the taste..... the taste of God!
