Zeero a.k.a. The Lyrical Messiah grew up in the Magic City known as Miami, Florida. A city which was, and still is known for its high crime rate, beautiful beaches, and multi-cultural atmosphere. Zeero legally named David Yisrael is the last of his parents nine children. He believed that his parents saved the best for last. Living in a large family in an undersized home was burdensome, but some how believed by him to be a blessing. He believed that being forced to live in a two-bed room house with eleven people, made their bond as a family much more difficult to break. Living in poverty trying to get riches was the everyday motto for his family, but the most important things embedded into the family were morality, respect and self control. As a young boy all he cared about was having fun and being at peace and harmony. His family did everything together and due to the family being so large, they really never had to go out and make any friends. Although there was not much wealth monetary wise, their family had plenty of love and spiritual wealth. His parents are two church going individuals who demand that their children respect God first and everything after. Living through the hard times and struggles of the past, Zeero finally understood what his parents were trying to instill in him spiritually. Zeero has been fighting the odds way before he was even born into the world. While his mom was pregnant, she was unexpectedly attacked by a mugger who forcefully pushed her to the ground and took what little money she had. , All she was worried about was her baby. All she could say during the incident was God help me, please help me. A few months later a healthy young baby boy was born. At the age of five months another life threatening situation occurred; the medication which wrongfully prescribed by his physician led to him being hospitalized. Unfortunately his parents were unaware of the legal rights that they had at the time, but most importantly David survived. At approximately six years old, David was fighting once again for his life as he fell into the ocean at a neighborhood park. He didn't know how to swim but somehow he found his way out. Till this day he believes God pulled him out of the water. One late night as David slept in a crowded home, the house caught on fire and everybody but David heard the screams, as everyone exited the burning home he was left behind until his mom, who was the first to rise remembered her son lying on the bed in the corner of the burning room. She ran back into the burning room filled with smoke, snatched him off the bed and carried him to safety. This pattern continued as life went on; he found himself several times staring down the barrel of a gun with anticipation of the trigger being pulled. He was victimized by armed robbers several times at gun point, car accidents, and mistaken identity leading to police brutality and false incarceration. Every time he was face to face with a serious or negative situation, God always blessed him to overcome it and learn from it. Most of all he started to realize that he had a true purpose here on earth. Due to the unstable income of his family they were forced to move from home to home renting from unfriendly landlords which led to David attending multiple high schools in the Dade county area. The turning point started during the high school years of his life. Not focused on the average issues that a normal high school student would normally focus on, he had a tendency to associate with older individuals who knew more about life than he did. He believed that life was the most important thing and that the only way to prosper in life was to study the realities of life. Humble and open mindedness, are two of the many characteristics that he possesses, which are the foundation of a great student. One of his greatest teachers came from within his own family. His oldest brother formally known as Elvis, had a major influence on him. Although his brother lived what is now known as the thug life, he always encourages his youngest brother to do the opposite. David took chances, but in the back of his head he always heard his brother's voice and started to consider how much it would hurt the family as a whole if he were to end up dead or in jail. After graduation David had to deal with real life which he believes a diploma or college degree doesn't prepare you for. While searching for knowledge, wisdom, and understanding of life, he had to deal with the issues of life. Seeing that many people suffered in life from a lack of knowledge about the real world, he knew that the answers were not in the educational system, if the answers were in the school system then society should have been a better place to live in already. He believed that life should be simple, enjoyable and peaceful. He also believed that to achieve these goals many would have to be taught on a higher level of education. Due to those particular beliefs he started his quest to obtain the knowledge of the most high which is the creator God Almighty named Yahweh. Respecting the name and Studying the divine mind of Yahweh, he started to understand life because Yahweh is life. The more he studied Yahweh the more his relationship grew with the creator and the more he understood his purpose on earth. He believes that everyone has a purpose on earth. He believes that his life was spared over and over again because Yahweh had a special purpose for him on earth. He believes that his purpose is to bring spiritual and mental light to a dark generation that needs it most. Zeero has been rhyiming since the age of twelve. In the past before his reformation he was rapping about the basic topics of the music industry. He admits that he was blind and ignorant in the past but, grateful for the fact that hes been blessed to live and experience both worlds and over come the negative and immoral topics. He knows that hes here to set a trend for the future generations to come. Zeero doesnt believe that Rap or hip-hop is bad, but he believes that Rap and hip-hop are being use in the wrong way to promote the wrong things. The name Zeero was chosen for many reasons. The shape of the number represents his versatility which is 360 degrees meaning that he is the Alpha and the Omega of hip-hop. The number 3 in 360 degrees represents the trinity (The Father, The Son and The Holy spirit). The number 6 represents the number of days in which the Creator took to accomplish everything. The number 0 represents his completeness as well as the whole 360 degrees. Hes not taking away from those who have brought hip-hop to the point where it is today, but he claims that hes starting and finishing a new and final era of hip-hop which is present now. The number zero is so unique. It's the only number that a person can't take anything from, which means as he would say I am who I am! It's the only number that can be multiplied by any other number other than its self and remain the same. A Messiah is a zealous leader of some cause or project. Zeero is leading the minds and spirits of the hip-hop generation in a zealous fashion of righteousness making him by definition a Messiah a.k.a. The Lyrical Messiah. The respect that has been instilled into him as a child is still visible today. He has an appreciation for life unlike any other. He is devoted to bring awareness and solutions to the world about the diseases that plagues society as a whole. His music expounds on all five bases of life politically, economically, educationally, socially and spiritually leaving no stone unturned. As Zeero quoted Yahweh is life and life is Yahweh. He intends to acknowledge Yahweh, the creator of the universe in every song.
