Arizona folk rock with country and spiritual influences 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: David Lewis was born and raised in Phoenix, Arizona, as were both of his parents, who grew up on local dairy farms. David has been writing songs since the mid-seventies, but has become much more active since the song "Rocking Chair" came to him in a profound dream in 1995. David believes song-writing is his way of expressing himself about relationships, emotions and spirituality. He also enjoys just telling a good story. The album Rocking Chair is the first collection of David's songs to be professionally recorded and released to the public. David has been a practicing dentist in Tempe, Arizona for over 25 years, and is a father of two wonderful young adults. He enjoys outdoor activities such as gardening, hiking, swimming and home-improvement, and of course music of all kinds. This album was dedicated to his parents, Bob and Shirley Lewis, who always supported his creativity, and provided a warm and loving environment in which to grow. The album was created with the help of many very talented Phoenix-area artists, and brilliant production by Liv S. Khalsa. The influences of many artists and music styles, from The Beatles to Garth Brooks, can be heard throughout this very versatile album.
