Acoustic guitar driven folk and alt. folk rock inspired by life on the Big Island of Hawaii. Recorded at OMNIsound in Nashville, TN 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: I finally did it! Here's my first album, "Somewhere Underneath!" I hope you enjoy it. I'm a 29 year-old singer/songwriter (emphasis on "singer") living on the Big Island of Hawaii. I brought my songs and guitar with me here, but my music has changed as the Island slowly works its way into me. As I was compiling a list of songs to record for this album it dawned on me. I've written all of these songs since moving to Hawaii 3 years ago. All of them are influenced by my new life on the Orchid Isle. You can hear my "mainland mentality" clashing with the beauty of the Island, as I slowly realize this is a place where sunshine chases sadness away. In fact, I recently realized the most significant things in my life have happened to me here on Hawaii Island. I met my wife here, for example. I also found a job here I enjoy more than any other I've had. The most difficult thing about this project has been trying to convince myself for the last 6 years to do it. I just want to sing and write. With my new co-writer, the Island of Hawaii, we've got a lot more coming your way.
