These songs were recorded in The Songwriters Lab Music Studio in Sherburne NY, between 2006-2008. Eighteen different musicans and singers contributed to this project. All of them from Central NewYork with the exception of a saxophone player from San Diego whom we contacted via the internet. You will find many different musical styles on this recording with instruments such as acoustic and electric guitar, keyboards, saxophone, banjo, mandolin, harmonica and pedal steel. These songs were produced and recorded by Bob Bormann with whom I collaborated with on this project. I feel we have created some great original songs.
