Aukahi is a musical family (The Masoe Ohana) that lives on the Hawaii Island in the Bay City of Hilo. Iwalani (Mom), Kani (Son), and Fono (Dad). Their current CD Aukahi "Pili Aloha", features Kani's awesome vocals. Kani wrote original songs like "Mama" song written for his grandma, "Pili Aloha" a song for his wedding and his wife, and for the hometown, "Beauty A'o Hilo". "Hawaiian Cowboy" is a tongue twisting, toe tapping, yodeling song that will get you dancing. Iwalani does a song called "Let's Keep It that Way" with a smooth country sound. Their music will enchant you with the island sounds of Hawaii, Tahiti and the islands of Samoa. Kani's amazing falsetto on Akaka Falls will leave you breathless and will take you to the Islands of Hawaii. They enjoy what they do as a family and when you have a chance to hear them you will leave with a good feeling, or maybe with their CD. "Their music will lift your spirit and soothe the soul".
