Mines traditional American music veins: country, folk, a dash of rock and roll, and the occasional 9th chord. 14 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Rock, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: Its "The Old Story": good-looking, impressionable kid grows up on a diet of polka music and English rock roll, leaves home after high school, ingests large doses of country music and the blues, then spends the rest of his life trying to make sense of it all. As a follow-up to "31 minutes", this disc contains 13 solid senders, by-products and reminders of a gloriously mis-spent youth. With the exception of "Funky in the Bunkhouse #2", these are guitar/vocal presentations, living-room loose. There's some rock and roll ("Funky...", "Ain't No Substitute"), future country classics ("I May Not Be An Angel", "Livin' Small, Lovin' Large"), romance ("Your Touch"), a soundtrack demo ("Cruisin' for The King") and even some cultural exchange ("Fred Goes To Mexico"). It's all here, folks. A veritable cornucopia of aural delights. "There's a real talent lurking there" -- Jerry Wexler "...sounds like the lovechild of Gram Parsons and Keith Richards" -- Carla Duriyea "Bill's a minimalist kind of guy" -- Fred Keith "You're a soulful songwriter, that's your gift" -- Rusty Burns
