"Dennis compositions, as a computer sequencer musician, are totally amazing. As I understand it, Dennis has done all the tracks from scratch and doesn't import or loop any sounds on the recording. He plays and records on a Kurzweil MIDI Board with multiple keyboards and sampling modules. Shaun Tokunaga took the photo, and did the art work, for the front cover and I found out that he, and Dennis, hiked all the way back to Manoa Falls, in Hawaii, to get the right shot for the cover. This is a compilation of new unreleased material from Dennis. Thick with exotica and birdcalls, it paints tropical musical pictures. From the opening of Dawn which is a very awakening 2 cups of coffee, New Age song, to Bali which reminded me of early George Duke, to Bedouin Nights which is a beautiful plaintive track with sampled oboe and violin trading leads, to Sellers Cellar which is a very Gary Burtonish Jazz cut with piano and vibes, and Lobo Pro Bono which is a great modern jazz fusion cut. Johnny Ringo which sounds like a movie sound track follows, and Alvera Street is New Age Latin Jazz. Chicharones sounds like a Sergio Mendez influenced Pop Latin recording, and Deepaks Chicken Pox fuses pop east Indian New Age and urban, with a Gregorian chant. Quite a few of these songs have a drive with a very professional understanding of percussion and drum rhythms. Paradise Beach reminds me of 70s George Duke, and Jontee is a great Latin New Age cut. Where are You? is very outside, and Miles Davis comes to mind. Then follows Antigua which is a movie based groove, driving in the car, feel. The last cut, Sunset on Titan Moon is spacey New Age music which put me right up there on a moon of Titan when I listened to it." "I do believe this compilation of Dennis work is wide in variety but some of his best work to date.
