Eclectic modern rock with dynamic female vocals and infectious melodies. PJ Harvey meets The Sundays 11 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock, POP: Power Pop Details: "Dizzy Fell Down is an eccentric trip no music fan or dark poetry lover should miss."NorthEast Performer Catchy beats, solid guitar grooves, and dynamic female vocals drive the edgy-pop of Illustrious Day, led by singer/songwriter Jackie O'brien (vocals/guitar), Jim O'brien (lead guitar) and Pete Abdou (drums). Think PJ Harvey meets Shawn Colvin. Jackie's honest approach to songwriting draws on a myriad of influences that give her songs huge crossover potential: part indie rock, part pop, part adult alternative. The Providence, RI based Illustrious Day is creating a buzz in the regional music scene as their 2002 debut CD, "Dizzy Fell Down", has garnered glowing reviews and radio airplay. They are growing a strong fan base as they continue to perform at clubs, festivals and colleges throughout the Northeast. Jackie also performs solo and has played such shows as the Hear in RI Songwriters Festival and The World Athletic Scholar Olympics in Newport, RI. Jackie has also played the R.I.S.A. Stage of The Newport Folk Festival whose main stage featured Shawn Colvin and The Indigo Girls. Jackie is a nominee for Best Female Vocalist in The Providence Phoenix Best Music Poll 2004. Illustrious Day's captivating live performance is delivered with the attitude that this band is determined to get its point across....and they do.
