PATHWAYS Is an infusion of old and new, Traditional Native American Indian Flute and Irish Tin Whistle (and the occasional saxophone) combined with the lush backgrounds, and percussive (pop, jazz, tribal) beats of modern synthesizers 13 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: New Age, WORLD: Native American Details: Recording artist Joseph L. Young's melody-driven compositions feature a variety of masterfully played woodwind instruments: Irish tin whistles, Native American flutes, saxophones, and wind synthesizer (sort of an electronic saxophone). Throughout his work, the listener may discern musical influences ranging from Celtic, to Native American, to jazz, to ambient electronica, to film scores, and beyond. Also a highly trained audio engineer, he crafts his recordings with meticulous precision, creating a brilliant multi-layered tapestry of sound and movement to delight the ear. Joe is an avid martial artist who holds a second-degree black belt in Shaolin kung fu. He enjoys meditating and spending time outdoors, and is working on his first independent film. He lives in Boise, Idaho with his wife LaRee and their two cats.
