On November 26, 2006, Selene Rmulo began to carve out what is now La Pareja Dispareja (The Odd Couple). As destiny took its course, the two met preparing for a religious mass in honor of La Virgen de Guadalupe taking place on December 12th, 2006. During rehearsals, they realized that their unique voices and completely different musical backgrounds could merge and fuse creating amazing stylized rancheras and romantic ballads filled with colorful harmonies. While preparing for the mass and serenata for La Virgen de Guadalupe they also prepared in a matter of three short weeks, tropical dance music ranging from salsa, cumbia, merengue, and national Ecuadorian music to perform at the annual New Years Eve celebration at St. Brigits Church in Brooklyn, NY. The duo took part of the star-studded Up Front 2007-2008 of Univision (which included the presentation of the upcoming shows for Univision, TeleFutura and Galavision) as members of Team Univision with their original composition of Yo Amo Univision song with guest star Prysyla Muoz.
