His commercial credits include international work in voice-overs, character voices and jingles for both TV and radio, book narration, on-camera work, point-of-purchase campaign spots, in-house industrial narration, and CD-ROM and film narration. He can be heard daily on national TV, radio, and on the Internet. The Many Voice of Barry Carl extends deeply into the musical realm. With his skill in linguistics, Barry has sung opera and recital repertoire in twelve different languages, and has been in plays and musicals both on and off Broadway as well as operettas and musical reviews. He has performed as a cantorial soloist and sings on the highly acclaimed Parnes Haggadah website. For nearly fifteen years his resplendent basso was the foundation upon which the popular a-cappella group Rockapella built their intricate melodies of rock and roll, R&B, pop, and jazz. with fifteen albums and numerous compilations to his credit. He has also contributed both his speaking and singing to a broad range of musical projects, from progressive rock to contemporary chamber music. He is currently producing a solo recording just for the joy of it. Barry's voice ranges from the deepest recesses of the bass operatic repertoire to a loopy falsetto. For five seasons he was featured daily with Rockapella on the Peabody Award-winning PBS game show "Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego?" where he amused and informed audiences with contestant introductions, musical clues, and on-camera characters. A globe trotter himself, Barry has performed in Asia, South America and Europe. He recently taught Master Classes in voice at the American School in Sazlburg, Austria. A graduate of the Juilliard School of Music with both a Bachelor's and a Master's degrees, he resides in New York City.
