Born in New York City, Johnathan began performing at age 11 with the world-famous Boys Choir of Harlem. For seven years, as part of a select family of young talented men, he was groomed with the skills of charm and self-expression through the art of music. With his mother as his mentor, his incredible talent and perseverance placed him in the role of lead tenor for the choir. Johnathan gained an intense training in all forms of music including classical, jazz, hip-hop, and gospel, and experienced a string of unforgettable, inspiring moments as a member of the Boys Choir: seeing Placido Domingo perform in Japan (1989), singing at the intermission for Luciano Pavarotti's Concert in Central Park; and performing in a live show on Broadway for two weeks (1993).
