Weekly "Lois Greco - The Lady sings the Blues and more...her powerful vocals propel her band and the music with authority. An inspiring and versatile group of musicians." -Barrelhouse Blues "Lois Greco and her band don't sneak up on you - The band's hard driving beat and Lois with her strong yet melodic interpretation of the blues are in play from the very first song. One thing for sure - at the end of every song you know you've been sung to!" - Quarternotes Magazine The range of her voice is as hard and dirty as any blues singer and yet the way she is able to sing a sweet ballad is just stunning. I have no doubt when you hear Lois sing you will agree she is the next great female singer to emerge from the New England circuit much like Bonnie Raitt, Carly Simon Susan Tedeschi."- John Black- Photographer/ Music Videographer The riveting stage presence of Lois Greco draws the audience into each performance. A couple of recent highlights of her performance include a dramatic spoken word introduction over the beginning of Bessie Smith's classic "Empty Bed Blues" followed by an incendiary reading of the vintage blues with searing guitar, and a smoldering take on Lazy Lester's "Sugar Coated Love" which also brought the house down.
