Instrumental melodic electronica. Catchy pop songs without words. Mixing low-fi charm with lovely chords and tunes that lodge in the brain. 14 MP3 Songs POP: with Electronic Production, ELECTRONIC: Ambient Details: "Single-handedly reviving the pop instrumental!" That is the mission of Rob Gibson AKA Mister Fusty, making lovely tunes with just a guitar a computer, cranking the handle until something marvellous melodic comes out. "Instrumental pop" or "Melodic Electronica", either or both of these phrases fit the description of Mister Fusty's debut album, "Honest Blundering." Fourteen insanely catchy, concise, musical nuggets await you, in a variety of styles, from the chamber pop influenced "Silk Willoughby" and "Temple Bruer" to the skittery electronic beats of "Jerkin" and "Kirkby La Thorpe." Rob Gibson has been twanging his guitar, tweaking, pressing buttons, and creating music on his computer for a few years now, mainly out of curiosity and the need for a hobby.
