They were at it back in the day when UK82 was in its infancy, and still do it today. Along with GBH and The Varukers, Exploited and many more PFS were there and recording punk rock songs in 1982. So have no doubt, you have what is now known as a genuine UK punk rock product. There is nothing more to say but check out the reviews of this album below - MAXIMUM ROCK AND ROLL REVIEW - These veteran Welsh punkers have been around forever. I suspect going on 20 years now, or even more. Ive no idea what this release is in terms of their discography, but they can certainly still bash out the UK82 sound of punk rock with the best of them. The guitarist has improved considerably. Think of that classic Riot City sound, or pre thrash Exploited, with a guitarist who can play the flash leads without sounding metal. Stirring stuff for sure.
