Rory has wide-ranging interests that often inspire his music. He grew up in the church singing and playing various instruments before settling on keyboards. He started writing songs in praise of God and rearranging familiar tunes. He has spent most of his life working with and inspiring children and young adults in making the right choices in life by counseling and teaching. Listening to the powerful words of his songs and the strong beats behind them, you can feel the encouragement and positivity. Rorys first CD, ETCHED IN STONE, featured 11 songs and caught the attention of many new fans. Additional vocals were accented by the local Los Angeles female trio Special Blend. Rory's unique arrangements of How Great Thou Art and Swing Low Sweet Chariot showed that there is still life left in those old favorites. But, it is the uniqueness and power behind his original compositions that made ETCHED IN STONE a success. The hard-hitting vocals in Doing Life speaks of making a difference in one's life and looking for a more positive future. A Prayer For Our Children strikes a chord with anyone who has raised or is raising children and Skid Row touches on the hard reality of street life. His second CD, CELEBRATING CHRISTMAS WITH FRIENDS, featured Christmas favorites done Rory's way. With this collection of songs, Rory was able to showcase several of his friends while we had another chance to hear his arranging talent. Rory was born and raised in Los Angeles, California. Rory's love for music began at an early age. At age 13, he began playing the trumpet. He also studied other brass instruments through junior high and high school. He was the kid hanging out in the band room during lunch time. While in high school, most of his free time was spent playing with local bands, doing studio recording, and playing in local churches. Rory grew up listening to a variety of music greats but took a special interest in Stevie Wonder. I remember the first time I discovered he was blind, says Rory. He was being guided up to the stage to receive a grammy for his album Songs In The Key of Life. I remember asking my father, Why are they helping him up to the stage? That album was a turning point for me. It is what inspired me to write songs. Soon after that, Rory began playing around on the piano and organ at his home church. He formed a group called Intercession in the Los Angeles area which played at various functions and churches. Later, the group expanded, changed its name to Inner Session, and began playing for larger audiences. Rory has performed at many venues with Inner Session as an opening act and with several headliner concerts. Although Inner Session is no longer active, Rory has continued performing with some of the members of that group and other amazing talent spreading his message through his music. Rory writes most of the music he performs. Although a form of contemporary gospel, his music is often described as different and a refreshing change from the usual. Rory enjoys and writes many styles of music and he has always kept his focus on God's Word, using his gifts to God's glory. In addition to music, Rory's other interests are spending time with his family, camping, collecting exotic animals and spending time on the computer. Rory can be seen almost every Sunday morning playing his music and conducting the choir at St. Philip Lutheran Church in Compton, CA, where he is the music director.
