acoustic guitars, electric hooks 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: THE REVIEW, March 2000: "DeWester's husky tenor has never sounded better...just when you get used to him fronting the smart-alecky power pop band Lost Causes, he turns around and delivers 'Copasetic,' An earnest look at life and love that wouldn't be out of place alongside some of the stronger entries from singer-songwriters like David Wilcox or Marc Cohn. At only 25 years and two albums old, DeWester has already shown startling depth and potential...'Copasetic' goes a long way towards illustrating the depth of his artistry...an album meant to be curled up with and enjoyed, like an old friend."
