Twilight in Brooklyn, New York. "Hypnotic. I've played their debut album to death." (Village Voice) 9 MP3 Songs POP: New Wave, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: The Last Town Chorus haunts Brooklyn, NY, and is led by the singular voice and ethereal lap steel playing of Megan Hickey. The Last Town Chorus has shared the stage with The Innocence Mission, Hem, Amy Allison, The Jayhawks, Ida, Mary Lorson, and many others. The debut album has been slowly creeping around the globe based on listener affection and critical intrigue. "A highly seductive debut set to spellbind a whole new set of languid disciples" - Uncut, UK "Sultry, narcotic pop... I've played their self-titled debut to death... - Village Voice, New York "Few have sounded this exquisitely mournful since Mazzy Star split up...That they can address the pleasures of urban life, while sounding so utterly dislocated from it, is what makes the Last Town Chorus so unusually poignant" - The Times, London "Songs like 'Dear City' and 'Brooklyn Navy Yard, 1950' take urban vignettes and repaint them with the lilt and humidity of rural Americana: a pretty affecting feat." -The Observer, London
