Todd, the son of Deacon James and Stella Galberth, grew up in Mt Sinia Holiness Church. That's where he got his first training as a praise and worship leader. Back then they called it a devotional leader. When the church musician left, Todd had to play an even bigger role in the music ministry. I was about sixteen years old and had to lead praise and worship, direct the choir, and teach all the songs, all from the drums. Did I mention I was a new convert.....WOW That was very difficult and sometimes stressful obligation without the help of a key board player; but it helped make me into the psalmist and song writer I am today. He continued as the worship leader at Mt Sinia until he graduated from High School. In 2000, the Lord moved him to Grace Tabernacle Christian Center. This is where I received a true understanding of praise and worship as it regards to the scriptures. He is currently the praise and worship leader at Grace Tabernacle and God uses him mightily every week to usher his people into the presence of God. Todd has also been in numerous Gospel Stage Plays. Don't let the green grass fool you, A woman's gotta do whata women's gotta do, If loving you is wrong, and Private Chambers. Private Chambers is where Todd got his first opportunity to write and produce a soundtrack for the play. It was very difficult, especially the fact that it was my first recording, but I give God all the glory. He helped me to see that there were gifts and talents in me that I hadn't even tapped into. Private Chambers was Todd's directorial debut. A long with writing all the songs for the play, Todd helped nationally acclaimed play write Garrett Davis, along with assistant director, Cherie Hinton direct private chambers. It's totally different from being on stage.

You have to be five steps ahead of everybody and always know what everybody is supposed to be doing, including yourself, but I love it. Its never work, when you love what you do. Todd has also launched his new production company, Until All Have Heard Music LLC. My company provides a large variety of musical needs. It extends from weddings, to Live Recordings. Whatever the musical need is, we can handle it. Until All Have Heard provides a conglomeration of skillful, anointed musicians and singers, who are well equiped to handle all musical demands. Todd's objective is to please God in every facet of his life. He believes whole heartedly that every gift he has is from God, and that it has to be utilized to promote and help build the kingdom of God. I love God with all my heart and am excited to see how he's going to add to my Bio:)
