Gary, as lead guitar player, could be heard and seen in the music video for the hit single I Love Texas in 1991. Gary has written and performed many original songs including 911, his heartfelt reaction to the catastrophe on September 11, 2001, which received global acclaim. Through radio play and broadcast interviews, Gary has developed a loyal and dedicated fan base, which has only grown since joining forces with Kerri. Gary has performed in forty two states and over twenty-five countries during the past twenty years. Kerri Lynn, a Florida transplant from New Jersey, started her singing career in her church's choir and has since catapulted into the top 40 scene. While singing backup for Rod Stewart, performing the National Anthem for thousands in packed arenas, she still found the time to perform with various local regional variety/show bands. Her four year career with Gary has allowed her to further develop herself as a singer. With diverse vocal ability, she can be heard singing anything from Patsy Cline to Melissa Etheridge as well as the multitude of original songs that she and Gary have written. Gary and Kerri started out performing mainly in Southwest Florida, but their talent and determination have taken them on a whirlwind of public and corporate performances throughout the United States. Gary Kerri are the perfect duo for fairs/festivals, private events, corporate functions or virtually any other event. In November, 2007 the two answered a request to enter "Can You Duet," a contest hosted by CMT in association with "American Idol" producers. In December, 2007 they produced a dvd and submitted it to the California office, in return, Gary and Kerri were invited to come audition live in Nashville, TN. As of September, 2008, Gary Kerri have recorded "911 / National Anthem," "Live At The Southwick Inn" and "Nice to Meet You," and have appeared at over 800 live performances.
