Hard, modern rock that combines elements of indie, jazz, progressive, and metal into an original sound. 6 MP3 Songs ROCK: Hard Rock, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Humming Wire is an alternative rock band looking to bring their original sound to the masses of the Bay Area and beyond. Located in Northern California, Humming Wire is the culmination of individual talent and years of experience into one cohesive and driving unit. While definitely an alternative rock band, Humming Wire feel that they bring much more to the table than the typical "alternative" band; they are an alternative to the alternative, if you will. By combining elements of rock, indie, jazz, progressive, and metal in a natural and cohesive manner, they have created a sound that is not only unique and exciting, but transcends musical categories and boundaries. Formed in early 2003, Humming Wire is actually the reformation of a previous band the members had in the late 1990s: Ugly Stick. After an amicable split, the band members pursued different musical interests. During this time, the band members gained significant experience playing various types of music, leading to individual musical growth and maturation. After a few years apart, however, the band members realized that despite the enjoyment of playing music with other musicians, none of these musical endeavors matched the excitement and creativity originally harnessed as Ugly Stick. Wanting to start afresh and armed with bold new musical ambitions gained through the years apart, the band members decided it was time to get back together under the moniker of Humming Wire. Judging from the overwhelming positive reaction and interest received thus far, this decision has proven to be a wise one not only for the band, but more importantly, for fans of creative, original, and intense music. Humming Wire performances have been very well received and attended, revealing that Humming Wire has a strong and loyal following that is growing with each show. With the release of their new cd, Humming Wire, the band is very excited about sharing their powerful music and is confident that this music will connect emotionally, physically, and intellectually with even more people as the opportunities to play more venues arise. Humming Wire is: Matt Page: Vocals Dan Norstrom: Bass Lars Aspelin: Drums Kristian Aspelin: Guitar Contact information: humming-wire.com hummingwire@yahoo.com (415) 370-6822
