A punch-out-your-windshield blend of all out car-stereo rockin, sing-along even though your voice sucks, high-five bass line drivin, indie power pop. 6 MP3 Songs ROCK: Emo, ROCK: Punk Details: It's time for all out car-stereo rockin, sing-along even though your voice sucks, high-five bass line drivin, indie power pop from Million Time Winner. Mixing equal parts of influential ingredients from ClockHammer, Big Drill Car, early Amy Grant and James Taylor, The Descendents and Diffuser, The Winner delivers a punch-out-your-windshield hand of music sonically and emotionally. 2001 saw their first studio release ("All But Snatched Away") on JerkRecords and now the summer of 2002 will see a brand new ep ("Paint Me Fine and Free") from MTW bursting with pummelling guitars and Juicy-Fruit-Gum-Commercial hooks. Live performances often include fire coming out of amps, a bass player rolling around on his back, and handfulls of broken strings. We can do no less, for we are great big rock stars, just like everyone else.
