On stage, these musician's come together with one main objective - keep it flowing. Their impulsive get up and throw down party knockers can come in the form of elevated dance grooves or bassy dance hall riddims; infectious hip hop beats or drum and bass, jazz-funk odysseys. The result always being: "Every body moves and nobody gets hurt." - "From funk beats that would do James Brown proud to dub work out's that call up Lee 'Scratch' Perry" - SF Weekly - "Deep Syrupy Beats" - 4080 Hip Hop Magazine Most Chill Slackmob has influences from James Brown, Beastie Boys and The Dead, to

Mad Professor, Grand Master Flash, Public Enemy, WAR and The Rolling Stones. It's Cross Pollination; It's a Hip Hop Hybrid. Most Chill Slackmob is the meshing of styles and influences to create Urban Mind Expansion. A unique and soulful feeling that speaks to all kinds. - "Most Chill Slackmob... rocked the crowd fiercely with their brand of what they call 'Urban Mind Expansion'. The show was all about throwing down an ass-shaking block party that ignored musical and cultural barriers in the name of unity. For Most Chill Slackmob, rap's heart is more than just drum machines, discs and dats." SF Bay Guardian
