Details: Peter Smith presents Structures, his second solo album, featuring music composed entirely with percussive instruments (mallets, vibes, xylophones, etc). Structures exposes a different perspective on the musical world of Peter Smith, following his first album, Galaxy of the Mind. These musical structures were inspired by observing and appreciating the beauty of the natural organic world, with its evolution, growth and harmony happening all around us. From the swaying movement of a leaf in the wind, as if it was trying to give some kind of signal, to a pair of beautiful pelicans standing with their feet in a pond, watching the sunrise together, Peter Smith quickly found his ideas and inspirations for this beautiful and enchanting musical journey. - SmithComposition- July 16th, 2008
