Parental advisory- brutal metal riffs, powerful vocals, drums that groove and speed, controversial lyrics and memorable melodies. 11 MP3 Songs METAL: Heavy Metal, METAL: Metalcore Details: "When they ended the show, the audience wanted to hear more. Bloodshot definitely has a future in this business." -Show Review from Darksoul7.com Bloodshot was formed in Las Vegas in August 2002. They released their debut cd, Demons, Addictions Confidence on October 29th, 2002. Their single, "Brothers in Blood" has received airplay on 107.5. Their live show is explosive, aggressive, and captivating. Their website pulls in 50,000 + hits a month and Bloodshot is one of the most downloaded unsigned bands on the internet, having sold over 1,000 copies of their debut album through sheer hard work. With a professional attitude rarely seen locally, the 4 members of Bloodshot have attacked the local hardcore metal scene with a barrage of shows and promotion. Bloodshot is: Mike Hussey - lead vocals; Rob Hussey - guitars, backing vocals; Tim Dever - bass, backing vocals; Joe Latino - drums, backing vocals. The band's influences are as diverse as their personalities, with everyone from Slayer, Iron Maiden, Faith No More, Cradle of Filth, Cannibal Corpse, Deicide, Godsmack, Morbid Angel, Pantera, Testament, and Motley Crue providing inspiration. In August of 2003, Bloodshot put their money where their mouth was, bankrolling the Las Vegas Metal Fest on their own dime. The festival featured such acts as Deicide, Monstrosity, Strapping Young Lad and other death metal heavyweights. Even though Bloodshot is not a death metal band, they wowed the crowd on a Saturday night, going on fearlessly before the death metal onslaught began, and winning over hundreds of new fans. Bloodshot was actually described as the "token" crowd pleaser by a reviewer. The band is currently working on the follow up to Demons, Addictions and Confidence, and expects to release the new disc very soon.
