Bootleg Tonic is a hot new band with a really tasty sound. A Bootleg Tonic cannot be made without its two main ingredients Georgiana Trent and Eran Taviv. The first Bootleg Tonic record showcases the band, their stories, and their bluesy-soulful sound. Although Georgiana and Eran are from opposite sides of the world (Texas USA, and Tel Aviv, Israel), their chemistry began when they got in a room a few years ago and found that together they had a sound. They then decided to take that sound and bottle it up, by writing and producing their debut album VOLUME I. The album also has an added twist of flavor with guest friends like the amazing B-3 organ player Ivan Neville (Rolling Stones, The Neville Brothers), and drummer Jerry Krenach (Lou Reed, Chris Whitley). We wanted to make an album that you put on and just play from beginning to end, says Eran, and Georgiana adds, Every song has come from real experiences, and we just hope you can feel it. Tags: pop
