Like diamonds made out of the earth, there comes to us yet another molded and shaped from the pressures and hardships of what some may call "growing pains" has berthed "DC". This twenty-four year old Newark, New Jersey native gives a oneness with his music that can be felt by his vocal delivery. Being groomed from the age 15, with a range of performance experience from dance, acting and video production has enlightened him. This young man has developed a sense of urgency to pour the essence of the inner city experience into his work. With influences such as Marvin Gaye, Michael Jackson, Charlie Wilson, R. Kelly and many more, he brings us on a journey through the life of love an spirituality with realism that is eye opening. Believing that the stage is the only thing that seals the deal with the listener and himself, he takes pride in working hard to share his heart and soul with the audience. Loving the way that music can change a life, he vows to be that voice of a society that comprises of many. "I love to sing, because I do believe that when you sing you speak from a realm of emotion that constitutes us as who we are or hope to be". This is the intensity that "DC" brings with him to the stage were ever he is performing. As an artist that is not only committed to wooing his audience with his versatile vocal style it is equally matched by his work effort. He has also proven himself to be one of the industries potential heavyweight writers. This has been expressed is his first CD title "MY SIDE OF LIFE", which was entirely written by him. This young man has the presence to be that one artist that brings the passion back into the game. Also adding a touch of "HIP-HOP" and "FUNK" to this CD were produces Ben Rebel, Derek Jenkins, Jawann "MADMAN" Lowery and rapper "Jace" is featured on the CD as well as Marissa Debre an inspiring and up-coming
