Country music at it's roots. Some classics as well as songs written from the heart and about personal experiences. 14 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Traditional Country, SPOKEN WORD: With Music Details: TopCountryMusic.Com Review "Who says recording great country music is only for the very young? At 50+, the baritone singer/songwriter David Cline is proving that notion wrong. He's just released his first CD, Heart and Soul, available on the independent label of Circle Wire Records. Each of the 14 cuts on the CD are worthy of the great traditional country recordings of 20 or even 40 years ago. Classics such as Willie Nelson's "Hello Walls" George Ducas T. Tyler's "I Don't Hurt Anymore," Al Smith's "Big Boss Man" and even the hallmark "Ghostriders in the Sky" are included on this CD. Cline superbly writes his own, and without exception, are well written Cline masterpieces of traditional and even early rock-country. Even a little humor is peppered into the songs designed to keep the audiences enthralled from cut one to cut fourteen. Memorable heart-tuggers are also included, such as "Unforgettable Angel of Gold" and "Without You." These are also excellent compilations by Cline. Rave reviews of the album have been featured in Cowboy Magazine, Drover Magazine, Truckers News, RoadKing Magazine and also roadStar Magazine.
