David Wilson's violin tribute to the music of Henry Mancini 12 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING:

Instrumental Pop, JAZZ: Contemporary Jazz Details: After moving to Los Angeles, David Wilson found himself admired by musical celebrities. Doc Severenson was first to notice him; and then David Bowie (who requested David as a teacher); then it was Henry Mancini who approached David to ask him to do solo performances for the score to the film Switch. Subsequently, David played on Mancini's beautiful album As Time Goes By.
