Details: Stan Pollmann... a "Blended Rock Artist" who performs "Solo... but Not (Never) ... Alone"

Whether he is accompanied by one, two or a whole band or playing "Solo"... he is never alone because he always has the Spirit of the Living God right inside him. (Joshua 1:5) "Blended Rock"??? You say what is that?? It is a genre composed of a blend of many genres tastefully delivered. Sometimes together and sometimes actually blended so as to not appear to be of any definable genre. For Stan it comes from roots embedded in the early "Rock'n Roll" of America. He actually started playing in the early days of Rock and Roll. So he took those roots and added a "sprinkle" of Classic Rock, Acoustic Rock, Folk and Country seasoned with a little Jazz and Blues ... and bang.. you have Stan Pollmann. With a style for the young and old and the wild and mild, there's something for everyone. CD Review: Stan Pollmann's Look Up grabs you right from the start with his title track "Look Up" bringing your focus immediately onto the Lord. And it doesn't stop. "Rise and Walk" immediately catches your attention with a great bass line and awesome hook that compels you to sing along. His "Just Say No" continues to carry you along on a 60ish style song that you can't help but nod your head along with. Stan's heart can truly be heard in a nice, melodic ballad "Close to You". But don't get too mellow, because he brings you back to your feet on "King of the Jungle". You won't want to miss the flamenco-style guitar work on "The Final Outcome". Awesome guitar work, Stan! From the beginning song "Look Up" to the end song "Jacob's Match" which is a wonderful up-beat instrumental song, this album will keep your head moving and your heart singing along with Stan. His musical ability, his knowledge of the Bible and his passion for God shine through.
