COMMENT: Hi Everyone; " I have always wanted to do an album like this, with all these great songs that we grew up with over the years, and that always seem to have a special place in our busy lives. I don't know.....maybe it has to do with the uniqueness of each artist, or the images their songs convey to us about a much simpler, more innocent era. Maybe it's because...there were some really great songs written during that time. In any event....I know that we all enjoy experiencing these Classic tunes whenever we hear them, and I certainly enjoy performing them for you all. " -----
