

Mark Levinson No 23.5 Original Owner Operating Manual

Unpacking and placement
Unpacking	Unpack your N°23.5 amplifier and keep all packing materials for future transport. Because of the weight of the unit, handles are provided front and rear so that two people may lift and carry the amplifier comfortably and without risk of injury.
Placement	Carefully inspect your N°23.5. If you find any damage or flaws, see your Mark Levinson dealer immediately. To keep speaker cables as short as possible, locate the N°23.5 as close to the loudspeakers as practical. The N°23.5 should be located at least three feet away from the turntable and preamplifier. Otherwise, the N°23.5 may induce hum into these sensitive components.
Ventilation	The N°23.5 may be placed in a cabinet or on a shelf, but adequate ventilation must be provided to prevent overheating. The clearance provided by the unit's feet must be maintained to allow unrestricted air flow across the heat sinks and through the vents in the bottom of the chassis (placing the N°23.5 on thick carpeting, for example, may reduce or eliminate the clearance provided by the feet). Clearance above the unit must also be maintained to allow air circulation and to prevent heat buildup. The N°23.5 incorporates thermal sensors located near each group of output devices. If heat-sink temperature becomes excessive, these sensors will shut off the amplifier before damage results. After a brief cooling period, the amplifier can be reactivated via the switch on the front panel. If this occurs regularly during normal use, it indicates that the ventilation provided for the amplifier is inadequate. If there's adequate ventilation and the problem continues, see your Mark Levinson dealer immediately.
Custom installations	For custom installations and cabinetry, this information may be useful: ■ All temperature measurements are made at the top of the heat sink, 3.5" behind the front plate. ■ Normal heat-sink temperature at idle after warm-up, with unrestricted airflow at 22°C (72°F) ambient temperature: 36.5°C (97.7°F). ■ Maximum permissible heat-sink temperature before thermal protection is activated: 80°C (176°F). For exact dimensions, see "Dimensions."
PRECAUTION For your protection, review "Important safety instructions" before you install your N°23.5.
