An eclectic mix of folk-rock, alternative folk, pop, electronic, and spoken word. Jeta Grove does not like to limit themselves to one genre, but let the lyrics and aura guide the song. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: like Ani, POP: Folky Pop Details: Jeta Grove was formed as a true garage band when Claire and Nora were still in high school. Now in college, Claire Beck and Nora McCook are still making music, but as a duo instead of a full band. Claire and Nora are currently attending college at Belmont University in Nashville, TN. Claire is an Audio Engineering Technology major with a Sociology minor. Nora is an English Literature major with a Classical Guitar minor. On "Eadha" Claire plays guitar, bass, keys, drums, and sings, while Nora does most of the guitar playing and vocals. "Eadha" was recorded by Claire and Nora at home in Johnson City, TN. The album was mixed by Claire at their humble abode in Nashville and mastered at Oceanway Studios (Nashville). The songs on this album cannot be fit into one category, as they range from Texas blues rock to spoken word poetry. Aside from the one instrumental song on this album, Jeta Grove's songs are lyrically and poetically driven. Please visit our website (jetagrove.com) if you would like to see the lyrics written out.
