Bill is an accomplished author of childrens books and two metaphysical works, View From The Rainbow Balcony, and Book Of Forgotten Keys. Being a modern day renaissance man he has constantly sought different modes of creative expression, including weaving poetry, interior decorating, and photography. Since 1998 he has been a fan of electronic music. Four years ago he decided to learn this art form. One of his favorite artists is Zero One, and through the miracle of the internet they became friends. With the patient help of his friend new vistas in electronic creativity were opened to him. In grade school, Bill was fascinated with the way the great composers used their music to tell a story i.e. Peter And The Wolf. His debut album was designed as an updated, hip version of this musical genre. Here then is the musical version of View From The Rainbow Balcony which he penned in 1989: The Akashic Traveler Sometimes the ordinary can become extraordinary. So it is with the Akashic Traveler, returning from across the RIVER STYX (01:04), he was given the ability to surf the Akashic Record, the record of all events in all of time, past present and future! The part of him that was the Akashic Record spoke to his spirit calling him Stardancer. He was told that in his current life he has been a SLEEPWALKER (6:49). Stardancer awoke and his heart was filled with the WONDER (6:47), of all things from the past to the future. Thus began the journey of the Akashic Traveler! Stardancer quickly learned that in the Akashic realm one can become easily lost because all time is the same time which creates a TIME LABYRINTH (6:21). The only way he could travel was to understand and believe that time is meaningless! Once he understood that control of his thinking was the Forgotten Key, Stardancer was granted SAFE PASSAGE (7:03) between all existing realities! His nomad spirit transported him into a past life as a wandering desert nomad crossing a vast uncharted desert. As night approached, tents were hurriedly pitched, camels secured and the caravan settled in to await the coming storm. As the great SIROCCO (7:40) howled outside their tent, he and his companions played their instruments and chanted, showing no fear as nature raged all around them. As the storm ebbed Stardancer could sense the pull of yet another time and place. The Akashic calling let him know that he was NEEDED ELSEWHERE (6:25) to witness a possible future! Stardancer was immediately whisked into a future where without a DIGITAL IDENTITY (6:19) one could not prove that they existed. The conflict of mankind had grown so bizarre that Bioterrorism made all water so toxic that teatime was now BIO-TEATIME (5:29)! Stardancer could hear humanity crying out for A PEACE OF TOMORROW (6:57)! As unsettling as these visions were, Stardancer witnessed a startling transformation, a world of peace, a PROMISED LAND (7:57). Close your eyes and become the Akashic Traveler! Stardancer currently lives and creates his music in Hilton Head Island South Carolina.
