Traditional folk instruments such as the bagpipes, violin, and accordion, with distorted punk guitars, and a particularly social and political perspective in their songs. 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: Power-folk, ROCK: Punk Details: THE GO SET " A more punk rock Roaring Jack, more cohesive than the Dropkick Murphys, a less dour Billy Bragg, and a more pub-rock take on The Pogues...." Rolling Stone, May 2006 The Go Set are fast becoming an institution. Combining elements of traditional music in the bagpipes, mandolin, violin, and accordion, with 70's punk guitars, and social conscience and politically poignant lyrics - The Go Set are a unique Australian band. The band recently recorded its second album 'The Hungry Mile' with producer and Radio Birdman frontman Rob Younger, and has released the album to rave reviews as its tour winds its way around the country. It is a dynamic, interactive, and emotive live experience not to be missed. In coming months The Go Set are scheduled to tour the USA and Europe. Info: thegoset.com.au/
