Simplify your Forex trading by using 1 trading trigger and a handful of confirmation signals which allow you to get into the market and out again very quickly. Long Candles happen when the BULLS and

BEARS agree on the direction that the price will move at certain price levels. There is a flood of the same type of orders from both groups at the same time!! All these orders in the same direction cause the price to move quickly and far. A simplified approach using conventional trading methods and found a simple trading trigger that applied to 90 of long candles. And with more than 30 long candle opportunities a day, there is no lack of opportunity to trade.
